SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1912

An Evening Echo.
Call me man happy till thou knowest the end of his life; up till that moment he can only be called fortunate.—HERODOTUS.

The Telegram agrees with the West Union Record that Judge Nathan Goff is just as available now for the United States Senate as he was before the recent election. In fact, he is more available as there is a Republican legislature now. The Record need not be disappointed, should the toga be given to Judge Goff.

After the Huntington Herald-Dispatch recently published a most laudatory editorial about William M. O. Dawson, it was shocking a day or two ago to read that Mr. Dawson was calling that newspaper a Judas Iscariot. Mr. Dawson, however, says that he did not say it and now that newspaper says that the presumable Dawson interview actually came from the Edwards press bureau. Perhaps, Herrmann was "seeing things" again.

Soldiers at Fort McPherson, Ga., will have a school of practical business, if the reported plans of General Evans, in command of the department of the Gulf, are carried into effect. Among the subjects of instruction will be: Intelligent reading, simple arithmetic, single-entry bookkeeping, legible writing, stenography, automobile and explosive gas engineering, and telegraphy. The idea is to furnish the enlisted man with schooling that will enable him to earn a good living at the expiration of his enlistment. The school is part of a plan to make the army more attractive to young men.

Taft at Yale.
President Taft has been invited to all the Kent professorship of law at his alma mater, Yale University, after he retires from the presidency next March and a friend very close to him has announced that the president will accept the professorship instead of again engaging in the practice of law in Cincinnati, as he had intended.

The Kent professorship was established by admirers of the celebrated Chancellor Kent, who was a graduate of Yale in 1781 and who at two different periods was a professor of law at Columbia University. It is supported by an endowment, which amounts to about $5,000 a year. With the president's private income of about $8,000 a year, this should be sufficient for the needs of himself and his family.

In the event President Taft accepts the professorship, he will avoid numerous embarrassments that would confront him in following out his original plan of practicing law. Many of the federal judges before whom he would be expected to appear have been appointed to the bench by him, while he also appointed a majority of the supreme court. He also appointed various officials in other departments of the federal government before which legal matters are often presented. These circumstances would practically prevent him from accepting cases of a federal nature and even other cases in state courts that are likely to be advanced from state to federal courts or departments.

The professorship is a position to which the president is fitted by experience and temperament and no doubt it would be more agreeable to him than the active practice of law, although his admirers believe that he would add further lustre to his career should he be appointed to the supreme bench. The present of 32%.

SOCIAL

Successful Reception.
The reception given by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the Industrial school building Friday night in honor of Loyal Temperance Legion members, their parents and teachers, was quite a success.

While all that received invitations did not attend there were twenty-five adults and fifty-two children present. A short program was rendered as follows:

Opening song—By L. T. L. children.
Salute—Motto and national rally cry.

Scripture reading—Mrs. Hudleston.
Prayer—Mrs. Pyatt.
Vocal solo—James Cush.
Recitation—Miss Queen.
Recitation—Curtis Davison.
Duet—The Victory Song.
Recitation—Robert Merrifield.

Mrs. Merrifield, as superintendent of the L. T. L. had charge of the program and gave a short address on its work for the year, and urged the parents to greater cooperation with the superintendent and children in L. T. L. work.

Mr. James, principal of the school, gave an address on the work of the school. Refreshments were served after which a social season was enjoyed, in which it is hoped that parents, teachers and children became better acquainted and will prove a great help to all concerned.

Afternoon Reception.
Poinsetta, narcissus and Christmas greenery formed the brilliant floral decorations at the afternoon reception given yesterday by Mrs. Robert E. Sellers from 4 to 6 o'clock in her home on Webster street.

The hostess was assisted in receiving by her visiting guest, Mrs. E. T. Wehr, of Pittsburgh, the parlor having for its decorations poinsetta and groupings of Christmas greenery enhanced by crimson and green shaded candles. In the library where the guests were received yellow roses and steevia marked the decorations with clusters of narcissus.

The color scheme of pink and green was carried out in the dining room where Mrs. Edward H. Wehner and Mrs. Frank McEntee presided. Fruit punch was served in the hall by Mrs. Peter Koblegard and coffee was poured by Mrs. W. Brent Maxwell. Aids assisting through the rooms were Mrs. Benjamin F. Thompson, Mrs. Charles W. Purbee, Mrs. Hugh Jarvis, Mrs. Robert Morris, Miss Lamberd, Miss Boggess, Miss Christine Haynes and Miss Geraldine Wallis.

All during the hours of the reception a delightful program of music was played by the Cadenza orchestra.

Waldo Hotel Program.
A program of vocal and instrumental music will be rendered by the Cadenza orchestra at the Waldo hotel tomorrow evening. The program is announced as follows:

Klown Kapers—March.....E. R. Ball
Rose Maid—Selection.....
.....Bruno Granichstaedten
Broadway Review—Medley Overture
.....J. Bodewalt Lampe
Good Bye—Vocal solo.....F. Paolo Tosti
Raymond Overture.....A. Thomas
Recondita Armonia—Vocal solo.....

cate their plant in Clarksburg are such as to demand some further investigation which will be made and the information secured therefrom placed before the board of trade directors the coming week.

The general manager of a sanitary plumbing manufacturing concern in Ohio was in town Thursday last, also, and was very much interested in securing a location for his plant in the Clarksburg district. Before leaving for home this gentleman stated that he would arrange to bring with him on his next trip to Clarksburg one of the largest stockholders in his concern, who is a capitalist in his city and interested in various banks in Cincinnati and throughout the state of Ohio. This is a very fine prospect and one worthy of very strong co-operation on the part of local people.

CHILD A PATIENT.

Virginia Crews, aged seven years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Crews, of Bridgeport, was brought to St. Mary's hospital Friday night and operated on Saturday morning for enlarged tonsils. She is getting along nicely.
